ABOUT VSS

While VSS is a leading SAP Services Partner, SAP Channel Partner and IBM Premier Business Partner, we are in the business of solving problems, not simply selling technology for its own sake. Our experienced and highly professional sales executives, industry consultants and technical experts work as a team – listening carefully to our customers and prospects, focusing on identifying their most critical business concerns and creating end-to-end solutions to address those needs.

VSS has extensive in-house expertise in a wide range of business solutions and supporting infrastructure services. Additionally, we have formed strategic partnerships with leading organizations to add their expertise to create total solutions for our customers.

Established in 1990, VSS maintains over 250 combined high-end sales and technical certifications and has been recognized by IBM, VARBusiness and other organizations as a leader in our industry. Our emphasis is on our customers – and on the total solution. Our resolve is deep, shared by each individual within the organization and evident in every customer relationship. Along with each of our individual people, VSS, as a whole, has learned, grown and become smarter in the way we help our clients. With deep technology experience and business expertise, VSS is your trusted business and technology solution provider.
